Subject: Reference for Jane Goodbody, Search4 Office Solutions Ltd

All relocations are important and ours at Ninety One was no different with the added backdrop of being landlord as well as occupier. Throw into the mix a demerger from our parent company resulting in a new name/brand and a pandemic and we had the making of a project that required the very best team, albeit with some items unknown at the outset. This team started with Jane Goodbody who was retained as my Project Coordinator, though Goose to my Maverick is altogether more fitting. I don't say this lightly, this project would not have succeeded without the dedication, knowledge, tenacity, honesty and wit that Jane possesses. I have rarely come across someone who is so quick at connecting the dots which meant keeping the professional team on their toes and ensuring she knew exactly where we were throughout the project. Jane can turn her hand to pretty much any aspect of a relocation/fit out project ranging from reading drawings, building a budget, writing up a piece for a staff newsletter to preparing a presentation for stakeholders.

I know Jane is super proud of this project, she should deservedly be. And I know I will work with Jane again in the future, and genuinely look forward to it.
